Propositions Six to Eleven

Here is the second installment of "What I Wanted to Know about State Propositions but was Afraid to Ask."

Last week, in highly simplified but easy to understand language, the first five propositions were listed. This week, and for the next three weeks—right up to election week—we'll present 5 or more each issue.

Bear in mind that only the gist of the issues is given. Reference is made to the voters manual, soon to be delivered, that goes into detail—with its attendant goobledegook.

We start this week with Prop. 6, which seeks to modernize and simplify the state constitution. It would increase to four years the term of any state officer whose term is not already set by constitution. It would also deny reduction in salaries of elected officers during their term in office.

Prop. 7: (Legislative Constitutional Amendment) Legalizes voting rights of 18-year olders and changes the residency requirements to 30 days in state and precinct.

Prop. 8: (LCA) Authorizes but does mandate exemption from ad valorum taxation facilities which must meet government standards to reduce, eliminate, control or remove pollution of water, air or noise.

Prop. 9: (LCA) Reduces from two-thirds to one half the approval required to pass school bond issues for purpose of repairing, or replacing earthquake-prone school facilities. Bonds would be repayable from property tax.

Prop. 10: (LCA) Raises property tax exemption from $5,000 to $10,000 with service-connected blindness.

Prop. 11 (LCA) Adds the "right of privacy" to the inalienable rights of the people.

Here's What Voters Want

As election day nears, voices of candidates become more strident—each vying for attention by appealing to the tastes of the voter.

And the voter makes his wishes known without much faith in the candidate's ability to fulfill his promises.

But what the voter says should be heeded because he will revolt some day and elect some candidate who promises nothing. Every incumbent frets about this. Incumbents can deal with positives but when an opponent says nothing, he can't get a handle on him. So he takes a poll. Then he is prepared for almost any eventuality. It may or may not be the reason Assemblyman Pete Wilson took a poll of 20,000 citizens in the east county.

90 per cent of the inland residents who responded urged stoppage of commercial development along the coastline.

Not surprisingly, taxation claimed high interest.

It should be noted that these questions are not State Propositions except where noted.

Here is the thinking of these east county voters in percentages listed in "Yes," "No," and "Undecided" order:

Support mandatory drug, alcoholism and VD courses in school: 76-19-5 per cent.

Uniform statewide property tax for schools: 66-22-12

Protect the coastline: 90-6-4

Part of gas tax funds for smog control and transit development: 75-19-6

Ban billboards: 79-12-9

Rate difference between residential-commercial property: 85-10-5

Limit property tax (Prop. 14, Watson Amendment): 52-26-22

Reduce to simple majority vote needed for raising taxes banks, insurance firms and corporations—the same ratio as that needed to raise sales, income and real property taxes: 82-17-1

Death penalty: 79-17-4

Subsidize ailing aerospace industries: 51-36-13

Public works for unemployed: 72-15-13

Make State the employer as last resort for putting able bodied welfare recipients to work: 86-88-6

No-fault auto insurance: 70-18-12

Most important problems facing San Diego:

Taxes—23%; Urban sprawl—20%; Unemployment—14%; Welfare-Medi-Cal 9%; Environment—8%; Schools—8%; Drug, Alcohol abuse—7%; Rapid transit—5%; Seniors—3%; Law enforcement—3%.

Cut the budget in these areas:

Social welfare—31%; Highway construction—22%; General services—19%; Higher education—16%; Environmental control—7%; Mental health care—3%.

Wilson pointed out it illustrates the deep concern people have for positive action in Legislature.

Whirlybird Log Like TV Plot

The number of complaints concerning the sheriff's noisesome helicopter has been decreasing. Complaints had come mostly from Lemon Grove and Spring Valley because these communities are the middle part of the craft's "beat."

When the craft was first acquired, citizens often complained that the hovering craft "almost blew the windows out of my house." Noisy? Yes, but the complaints were extravagant. And the citizen's pique stemmed mostly from ignorance.

But Sheriff's Lt. Bob Morse has quieted most of those complaints. As officer in charge of the helicopter operation he established an "open line" with helicopter crew. Citizens may discuss (phone 448-2069) with sheriff's air wing fliers matters pertaining to specific flights.

Complaints decreased dramatically as citizens began to realize that the beat of the blades was a sound of protection.

Another innovation is weekly reports—a copy of which is made available to the press. Some are exciting enough to be the basis for a teevee play—particularly one of a nearby area.

Verbatim from last week: "10/3— 1455 hrs. routine patrol over College Grove area ASTREA (Air Support To Reach all Enforcement Agencies) unit responded to S.D. Police Department broadcast of a unit in pursuit of a stolen vehicle east on highway 94. As the chase turned south on Wabash blvd. ASTREA joined with the unit tracking the suspect vehicle should the unit lose contact.

"While tracking overhead, ASTREA utilized its siren to alert vehicles and pedestrians ahead of the chase." The suspect vehicle was pursued into Southcrest Park off 42nd. st. where suspect wrecked the vehicle and fled on foot into a flood control ditch.

"Officers continued pursuit on foot and caught the suspect approximately two blocks west of the park.

"ASTREA advised station 'A' of the foot chase and of the apprehension of the suspect."

Disturbance Leads To Drug Arrest

A Lemon Grove woman was arrested last Wednesday afternoon and charged with being under the influence of dangerous drugs after Sheriff's Department deputies investigated a disturbance call.

Deputies were summoned to 8002 Broadway, Lemon Grove, the address given by the suspect as her residence, and were contacted by the suspect's mother, who then made a citizen's arrest, charging the suspect with battery.

Deputies took Sheila R. Lee, 20, into custody at that time. Upon contact with the suspect, it was noted that she had trouble maintaining her balance and appeared to be in a drunken condition, although there was no odor of an alcoholic beverage.

The drug charge was then added.

Cyclist, Passenger Arrested

A Coronado man and a Spring Valley woman were arrested and charged with being under the influence and possession of restricted dangerous drugs last Thursday.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, patroling deputies observed a "chopper" type motorcycle eastbound on Broadway which weaved and made several lane changes, causing deputies to believe the driver was possibly drunk.

The motorcycle, driven by Alan B. Campbell, 22, of Coronado, was stopped in the vicinity of Sweetwater rd. and the driver was contacted, as was the passenger, Judith L. Tutor, 19, of Spring Valley.

Campbell had trouble locating his drivers license, and it was noted that his speech was slurred and that he had trouble keeping his balance, although no odor of an alcoholic beverage was detected.

Similar symptoms were observed of Miss Tutor, and both subjects were placed under arrest, Campbell charged with driving while under the influence of drugs, and Miss Tutor charged with being under the influence of drugs.

A routine search of Campbell revealed 96 pills later identified as amphetamine and barbiturates. The charge of possession of restricted dangerous drugs was added to Campbell.

Both suspects were transported to County Jail, where they were booked on those charges.

Buckner To Attend Ballot Discussions

H. Warren Buckner, member of the Board of Education of the Lemon Grove School District, and a Director of the California School Boards Association will be attending one of six regular CSBA Board of Director meetings this weekend in Oakland.

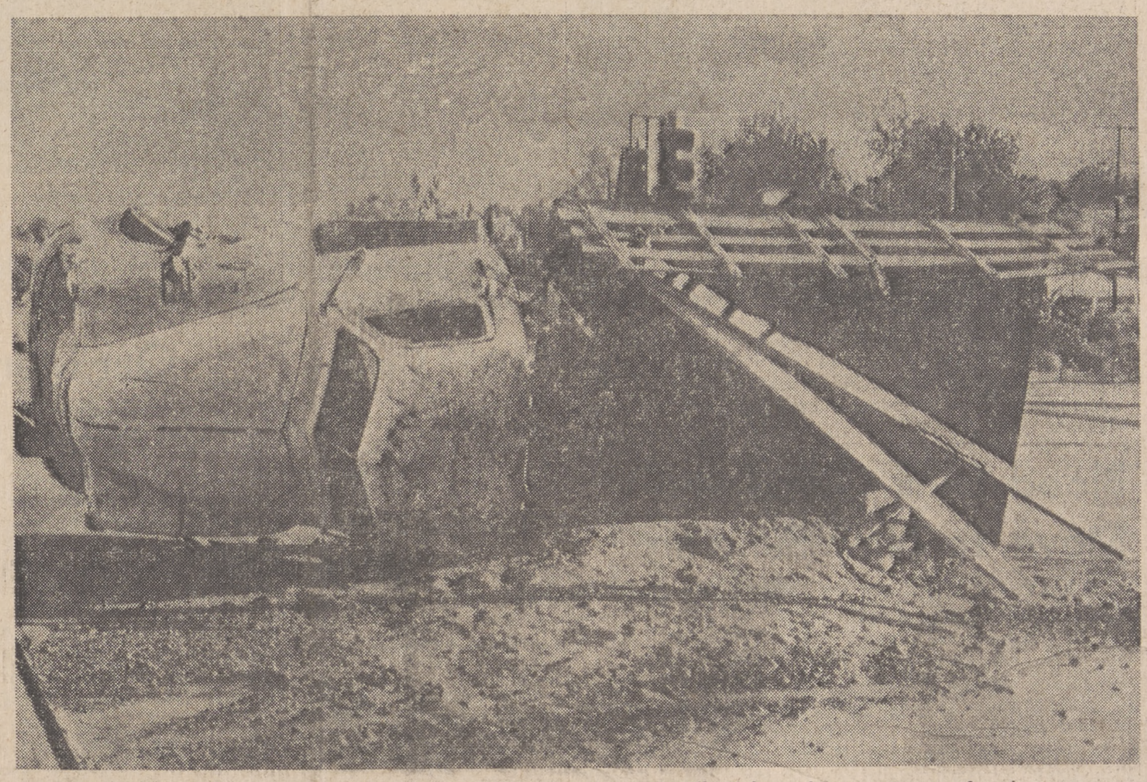
The Board will engage in extensive discussion of the Association's opposition to Proposition 14 and 21, and its support of Proposition 5 and 9. Proposition 14 is the so-called Watson Tax Reform measure, and Proposition 21 restructures the power of local boards at it relates to class assignment. Proposition 5 establishes more local authority for boards under the Education Code, and Proposition 9 provides for a majority vote on bond issues relating to earthquake safety for school buildings.

Other major items that are up for consideration: continued crisis in school finance, early childhood education programs, preparation of the 1973 legislative program, and establishment of delegates to the National School Boards Association meeting.

In addition, the six major program committees of the Association will be presenting a review of their activities for the past two months. One will be a proposal for a group insurance program to reduce the cost to school districts of premiums for general liability and vandalism insurance.

The California School Boards Association is the largest state association of school boards in America with a membership of over 900 individual boards representing the governing authority for 98% of the public school attendance in California.

Masked Bandits Hold Up Spring Valley Bank Branch



NO INJURIES — A truck-passenger car accident Monday morning in Lemon Grove caused no injuries but managed to leave the truck in an awkward position. The truck, driven by Rafael Martinez of Chula Vista, swerved to miss the car, driven by Ella Nelson of Lemon Grove, after the car apparently failed to stop for a flashing red light. The truck then struck the car and was upended. The accident occurred at 8:35 a.m. at the corner of Massachusetts and Imperial.

Five Escape With About $9,000 Cash

Sheriff's deputies and the FBI this week were searching for five male Negroes who robbed the Spring Valley branch of Bank of America, 491 Sweetwater rd., of an estimated $9,000 in cash.

The robbery took place Tuesday morning at about 10:45 a.m., according to bank manager Gene Pierson.

Pierson reported that he was involved in a real estate transaction when the men entered the bank, all wearing nylon stocking masks. They herded about 25 bank customers to the side of the building and told them to get down on the floor.

Three of the suspects then leaped over the teller counter and took cash from three teller windows.

As the men left the bank, in two separate vehicles, an armored truck approached the bank and the driver of the truck exchanged fire with three of the suspects.

As the suspect vehicles left the scene, a Sheriff's patrol car arrived and the armored truck and patrol car gave pursuit. The two cars were found about two blocks away, where witnesses said the suspects got into a brown Pontiac station wagon.

Investigation of the two abandoned automobiles revealed that one of the cars was stolen from a Lemon Grove auto dealer. The other was apparently stolen from a Mission Valley lot, according to reports from the FBI.

No money or suspects were located as of press time, according to the FBI, and the investigation is continuing.

Pair Charged With Drug Possession

A San Diego man and a Lakeside man were arrested in Lemon Grove last Sunday evening and charged with possession of restricted dangerous drugs after deputies investigated an apparent burglary.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, deputies were called to the scene at 5:40 p.m. to investigate a burglary in progress.

Upon arrival at the scene, they contacted Mark C. Hill, 24, of San Diego, and Darrell C. Nicholson, 26, of Lakeside in front of a closed business. Routine name checks revealed outstanding warrants for the arrests of the two men, and they were taken into custody.

The men were transported to the Lemon Grove substation, where, after the suspects had been removed, the rear seat area of the partol vehicle was checked.

The routine check revealed a plastic vial containing 15 pills, according to reports.

Annual Apple Days Planned By Kiwanis

The word "apples" is the password with Lemon Grove Kiwanis each October, and with good reason: over the last 17 years, L.G. Kiwanis members have sold nearly two million extra fancy red Delicious apples for the sake of local youth.

This year's annual Kiwanis Apple Days are scheduled for Oct. 25-28, according to chairman John Johnson. Buyers may visit the apple car on the rail siding at North and Imperial ave. in Lemon Grove on those days to purchase apples directly from the car or may call any Kiwanis member manning telephones at the following numbers: 469-5201, 447-0592, 460-6401, 469-1234, 460-9101, and 463-8429.

"Boxes of the extra fancy Washington Delicious apples will be offered at non-inflationary prices," said Louis Poluzzi, president of L.G. Kiwanis. "Buy yours at $10 per box, $5 for a half box; or $2.50 for a quarter box."

Proceeds from the sale will go toward local youth projects. The club is presently contributing financial support to the Lemon Grove Youth Center. In the support of others, it has contributed over $36,000 to Mount Miguel, Helix, and L.G. Junior High School music groups, to college students who needed loans, to the Pop Warner League, to D.A.R.E., and to the Christmas fund for deprived children.

In addition, the club contributed ditty bags for military men overseas, to earthquake relief, to the care of Lemon Grove Plaza, and to the Mt. Miguel Key Club.

"As you can see," Poluzzi said, "Kiwanis is not a do-nothing organization. We believe in the youth of this country and especially those of our community, so we'll do everything we can to help them."

Pot Luck Planned By Spring Valley CofC

The Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Pot Luck dinner for all the citizens of Spring Valley Oct. 24 at 6:30 p.m., to be held at Memory Lane Center, 9060 Memory lane, Spring VaVlley.

The main feature of the meeting at 7:30 p.m. will be arguments for and against Proposition 14, the Watson Tax Limitation Initiative. Ernest K. Waite, Principal Appraiser, Audit Division of Los Angeles County will present color slides and facts in favor of Proposition 14, and John Nagy, President, Statewide Homeowners Association, will present facts and arguments against Proposition 14.

There will be entertainment during the dinner hour. The Jeane Eskridge Dancers and a barbershop quartet will perform prior to a community sing led by Chet Smith with Mrs. David Bailey at the piano.

Each family is asked to bring either a meat dish, salad, or dessert. Enough should be provided for the family plus four others. Each family is asked to bring their own table service. Coffee, punch and bread will be provided by the chamber.

Lights Cause Blaze

A Spring Valley home was damaged in the amount of about $4,700 last week after a fire started in the garage area.

According to reports from the Spring Valley Fire Department, firemen were summoned to the home of Benjamin Sanders at 528 Parkbrook last Monday evening at about 9 p.m.

There it was discovered that the blaze had apparently started when decorative lights taped to a cardboard box had heated the box and ignited it. Flames quickly spread to the entire garage.

Pot, Pills Net Arrest

Charges of possession of marijuana and possession of restricted dangerous drugs were levied against Kenneth A. Knedler, 22, of 8832 Lance st., Spring Valley.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, Knedler was seen with a second suspect, who was not identified, by an off-duty deputy at about 6:30 p.m. October 6. The unidentified suspect held a bag containing approximately 100 red capsules, according to reports.

The two suspects were seated in a vehicle at a store located on the corner of Elkelton and Ashmore, Spring Valley, and were apparently waiting for a third suspect, who was inside the store.

The off-duty patrolman at that time went across the street to telephone the Sheriff's Department. When he returned, the second suspect had left the scene and the person who was inside the store had returned to the vehicle.

Knedler and the third subject then drove to a nearby gas station, where the off-duty deputy contacted both of them and proceeded with a routine search.

Inside Knedler's shirt pocket, reports indicate, was found a plastic bag containing a quantity of marijuana and ten red capsules believed to be seconol.

Five Teens Jailed On Pot Charge

Five juveniles were arrested at La Presa Junior High School last week after deputies on routine patrol in the area contacted them and noted a strong odor of marijuana.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the juveniles, all 16 or 17 years old, were observed sitting in a circle on the school playground at 5:15 p.m. October 8.

Upon contact, the odor of burned marijuana was noted and the five were placed under arrest. A check of the area revealed several "roaches" or butts of marijuana cigarettes, as well as two marijuana cigarettes in a plastic bag.

The juveniles were transported to the Lemon Grove substation, where all were later released to custody of parents.

Wrong Date Given For Meeting

Last Thursday night's meeting of the Lemon Grove Planning Association never came to pass because not enough people showed up.

Those few who did arrive at Golden Avenue School decided to postpone association business until next Thursday's afternoon meeting.

The poor attendance apparently was caused by an error in a notice sent out by County Staff, indicating that the meeting would be October 26 instead of October 12.

Next week's meeting, scheduled for 3 p.m. at Golden Avenue School, will include a presentation by the California Highway Patrol's Accident Reduction Team.

The ART program calls for additional patrolmen in the Lemon Grove area who study existing traffic problems and street conditions. The group also teaches traffic safety to youngsters in local schools.

Also on the agenda for the meeting will be a presentation of a letter from Frank Ball regarding the proposed College Crest subdivision which is within the boundaries of the Lemon Grove School District but also in the City of San Diego.

Ball's letter, in opposition to the project, will be considered by the association and possibly sent to the San Diego City Council, which is considering approval for the project.

The remainder of the meeting will be devoted to continuing a workshop on neighborhood delineation, which involves segmenting the community into small neighborhoods.

Blood Bank Completes Move To New Building

The San Diego Blood Bank's move to its new facility at 440 Upas st. was completed earlier this month without interruption of any services performed by the community, non-profit blood bank.

Routinely, the San Diego Blood Bank provides blood and blood-related laboratory services to all San Diego hospitals 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Blood drawing, processing and delivery continued as usual during the weekend move.

This was the third move for the San Diego Blood Bank, which originally was housed at the corner of Park and University avenues when founded in November, 1950.

For many years, the Blood Bank was located at the corner of Fourth ave. and Upas st. before the latest move to the newly constructed, adjacent building. The former site is being demolished to make way for a landscaped parking area.

"Convenience for the volunteer donor was the primary emphasis by the building committee of the San Diego Blood Bank when planning the 35,000 square foot, four-story building," said Suzanne Rucci, community relations coordinator for the Blood Bank.

The entire first floor is devoted to drawing and processing blood and the ease and comfort of the volunteer donor. The second floor contains supporting and reference laboratories for the study of blood, administrative offices and a library. The third floor houses business offices and a conference room. A portion of the third, and all of the fourth floor will be leased as office space.

Plans for formal dedication of the new San Diego Blood Bank will coincide with completion of landscaping and parking areas in mid-November.

In conjunction with the move to the new facility, the Blood Bank recently announced an intensified public awareness campaign aimed at attaining 100 per cent volunteer blood donor by the end of the year.

Parking meters are being eliminated from downtown streets at Raleigh, N.C.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor:

The United Nations, in a big play for propaganda, flopped miserably.

A resolution declaring October 24th an international holiday was introduced in the U.N. General Assembly by the delegation of the Republic of Zambia, and on December 6, 1971 was adopted by a vote of 63 to 6 (with 32 abstentions).

The United States was one of the six nations voting against the U. N. Holiday Resolution, arguing that the General Assembly has no authority to declare this holiday and that it is up to our Congress to take such action within the U. S.

The U. N. delegates are to be commended for insisting such action is reserved to the United States Congress.

Sincerely,
C. C. Moseley,
President
Grand Central Industrial Centre, Glendale, Calif.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

There are an amazing number of ways to express "get" in Spanish. Even when we wish to say "get ready" we find that there are several alternatives. We may either say "Preparese." (Get ready) or "Ponte listo" (Get ready.).

"Get together" is expressed with the verb "reunirse." This allows us to say "Vamos a reunirnos hoy en la noche." (We are going to get together teonight.). "Get together" may also be expressed with "ponerse de acuerdo" or variations of this form. Examples are seen in "Vamos a ponernos de acuerdo enalgo." (Let's get together on something.) and "Nunca nos ponemos de acuerdo en nada." (We never get together on anything.).

"Get over" may be expressed with "curarse." This is demonstrated in expressions like "El va a curarse de su catarro pronto." (He is going to get over his cold soon.) and "No puedo curarme de la tos." (I can't get over the cough.).

"Get old" or "getting old" is expressed with "envejecer" or "envejeciendo." For example we may say "No me gust envejecer." (I don't like to get old.) or "El esta envejeciendo." (He is getting old.).

"Get off" is expressed with varying forms of "bajar." Thus we may say "Voy a bajar en la esquina." (I am going to get off at the corner.) and "Quiero bajarme del camion." (I want to get off the bus.).

"Get back" may be translated by using "regresar" or "volver." This is seen in "Voy a regresar hoy." (I am going to get back today.) and "No se cuando voy a volver." (I don't know when I'll get back.).

Additional phrases are listed below for your continued learning pleasure. You may practice saying them with the recorded voice on 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Ponte listo." (POHN-teh LEES-toh) for "Get ready."

Say "Vamos a reunirnos." (VAH-mohs a reh-oo-NEER-nohs) for "Let's get together."

Say "Permitame bajar." (pehr-MEE-tah-meh bah-HAHR) for "Permit me to get off."

Say "Quiero bajarme del camion. (kee-EH-roh bah-HAHR) for "I want to get off the bus."

Say "Vamos a envejecer." (VAH-mohs ah ehn-veh-heh-SEHR) for "We are going to get old."

Say "Van a regresar pronto." (VAHN ah reh-greh-SAHR PROHN-toh) for "They are going to get back soon."

Beef and Gravy

SDG&E Seeks Rate Increases

San Diego Gas & Electric Company last week asked the California Public Utilities Commission for authorization to raise gas and electric rates to offset pending increases in the cost of natural gas from its supplier, Southern California Gas Company.

The proposed rate change for gas service would increase revenues by $267,000. It would increase the bill of the average residential gas customer by about two cents per month.

The proposed change for electric service — to offset higher charges for gas to generate electricity — would increase electric revenues by $100,600. It would increase the bill of the average residential electric customer by about one per cent per month.

SDG&E also asked the commission for authorization to modify rates during 1973 as necessary to offset price increases from Southern California Gas Company resulting from general increases imposed by its out-of-state suppliers

Food, Fads, Fakes, Facts Is Lecture

"Foods, Fads, Fakes, and Facts," will be featured in the continuing series titled "Can You Keep From Killing Yourself?" presented by the Grossmont Hospital Staff, the Grossmont Staff, the Grossmont Hospital Women's Auxiliary and the Office of Community Services, Grossmont College, at 7:30 p.m., tonight in the Grossmont Hospital Auditorium.

Each session in the popular series explores ways to maintain a healthy, active mental and physical balance that could add years to the normal life span.

"Food, Fads, Fakes and Facts" will be explained by Mrs. Julia Woersching, R.D., University Hospital dietitian.

Mrs. Woersching, a registered dietitian, is a consultant in the geriatric field and formerly served at the John Hopkins Hospital and Union Memorial Hospital as a dietetic supervisor. She has completed extensive research and has spoken widely on the subject of diet fads. Two films, "Food for Life" and "Diet and Heart Disease," will accompany her oral presentation.

The public is invited to the program featuring good diet as the answer to good health.

Speakers Bureau Program Launched By Grossmont

Grossmont Hospital last month launched an experimental speakers bureau program, through which local clubs and organizations can secure the services of experts on health-related topics for speaking engagements.

Five separate programs are offered for the fall and winter series.

Dr. Thomas Lyons presents "Witchcraft or Which Craft?", a program on non-medical malpractice methods of medical quacks. Included in the program are slides and a display and demonstration of some of the equipment used in medical quackery.

"Can You Afford to be Sick?" is the program presented by Ronald Dahlgren, Grossmont Hospital Administrator. His talk includes explanations of Medicare and Medi-Cal and information on how programs affect hospital or medical care bills.

One of four local doctors will present "It's Time for a Change", which answers questions about menopause, its effects and its treatments. Thomas Yetman, Martin Greenberg, John Sullivan, and Basil Maloney are the doctors available for the presentation.

Grossmont Hospital dietician Mrs. Ruth Silver presents the program on "Good Nutrition — What's it all About?", a discussion of good nutrition, fad diets, and a sensible approach to weight control. The program also covers low cholesterol diets, and dietetics as a profession.

"The Frosting on the Cake", is presented by Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary members Mrs. Vincent Gann, Jr., and Mrs. Richard J. Teague. The program explains community services offered by the auxiliary, including "heir conditioning", facts of La Maze Childbirth, the auxiliary's minor consent program, and "infant hearing". The program also covers the Pink Lady and Junior programs of the auxiliary.

The speakers bureau will send one or more programs to any local organization at no charge, although it is suggested that at least 40 persons are in attendance. For details, contact Ruth Rogers at 469-0224.

A new set of programs is scheduled for the spring and summer.

Experimental Fog Warning Signs Set

Experimental fog warning signs are being installed at selected locations in California to evaluate means of alerting motorists to reduced visibility ahead during foggy conditions.

State Public Works Director James A. Moe said that the signs will be triggered automatically by electronic sensing devices which will detect reduced visibility on the highway in time for motorists to slow down.

Moe explained that his Department and the Highway Patrol plan to test three different fog alert systems during the 72-73 winter season.

One, developed by Lear-Siegler, Inc. of Denver, known as a "transmissometer", will be used to detect and measure the reduction in visibility due to fog.

Soladyne Company of San Diego also has developed a fog detection device which will be tested. The Soladyne equipment to be evaluated consists of a laser beam that can measure fog density in one mile segments up to three miles on either side of the device. Fog warning signs can be activated by either of the devices.

Local School's Camp Fire Girls Re-Organized

Monterey Heights School Camp Fire Girls programs are presently undergoing re-organization, according to Mrs. D. L. Mueller, in charge of the program at the school.

Two new Blue Bird groups have been organized at the second grade level, Mrs. Mueller said. The two groups are presently registering girls and obtaining assistant leaders and sponsors.

Mrs. Nola Homer is the leader of the new third grade Blue Bird group, which is also in the registering process, and Mrs. Doris Schmitt is the new leader of a third grade group which was formed last year.

Mrs. Mary Shier and Mrs. Pat Andrews are leaders of the fourth grade Camp Fire Girls groups, but another leader is needed for a third group which will soon be formed.

The school's fifth grade group was this year combined with a sixth grade group from Golden Avenue School. The Monterey Heights sixth grade group is led by Mrs. Pat Thorson.

Girls who would like to get into the program and adults who would like to become leaders and assistant leaders may contact Mrs. Mueller at 460-6777.

ANNUAL PROJECT — Dave Bosma constructs steps of the new house being built by Grossmont Union High School District students in a special construction class, while Harry Holthusen, left, president of the San Diego Savings and Loan Clearing Assn., which has provided $12,000 to fund the project, looks on. All phases of building the house were handled by students.
"We are happy to participate in this program," said Holthusen, for local S&L Assns. "The project has special value because students receive educational benefits of actual working experience without use of school tax funds." On completion, the house will be sold at auction. Profits are used to buy tools and equipment for the continuing program.
Holthusen is president of Imperial Savings with a branch in Lemon Grove.

Pigmy Hippo Born at Zoo

A tiny grayish-pink head poking cautiously from its pond is what Zoo visitors see of the newest pigmy hippopotamus. Born October 9, the pigmy hippo infant weighs only about fifteen pounds and is a foot long from nose to tail — a long way from the 500 pounds and five feet it will reach when mature.

Even at those proportions, the adult pigmy hippo is only about one fourth as large as the more familiar river hippo.

The pigmy hippo is considered an endangered animal in its native habitat of West Africa, but has bred successfully in captivity. However, this pigmy hippo birth is only the second in the Zoo's history. The female "Holly", born December 20, 1970, was the first for the species at the San Diego Zoo. The new baby's sex has not yet been determined.

According to Zookeeper Tom Miller, the hippo baby hasn't ventured from its mother's side since birth, preferring the warm pond environment to being observed by spectators. Baby pigmies can nurse under water, and are sometimes not weaned for as long as eight months.

S.F. Ballet Concerts Set

Southwestern College will once again present the San Francisco Ballet in concert for two performances, a Sunday Matinee, October 22 at 2:30 p.m. and again the following night, October 23 at 8 p.m. in Mayan Hall.

Direct from its highly successful 20 performance Summer Residency at California State University, San Francisco, the San Francisco Ballet presents 30 of its principal and solist dancers in its annual college tour.

Acclaimed throughout the world, the San Francisco Ballet has been hailed by the London Times as "one of America's two chief ballet companies", and has been well received in North and South America, Asia and in Europe as this country's most versatile dance company.

NEW DIRECTOR — The promotion of Kenneth J. Crimmins to director of finance and administration for Ranch San Diego was announced last week by vice president and general manager Leonard Graysen.
Crimmins, who formerly was controller for the locally-based land development organization, is responsible for financial planning, historical accounting and staff services. Graysen said Rancho San Diego is now in the overall concept development stage for the Ranch San Diego "new town" located in Spring Valley. Sweetwater Village, the first of several planned villages which will comprise the new town, is now under development and single-family homes and town houses will soon be open to the public, he said.

Miguel Band Seeks Rose Parade Chance

Poetry dictates that a rose is a rose but to Mt. Miguel High School's marching band a sixth rose is the only rose that matters.

Director Dean Immel and his 120 musicians shoot for that sixth rose Sunday afternoon in the Fashion Valley shopping center when they participate in the Autumn Band Review.

The 2 p.m. event will showcase the area's finest city and county bands all competing for the grand prize, the right to represent San Diego in the New Year's Day Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena.

Mt. Miguel has won the honor five previous times, more than any other band in the competition. The red and black clad Matador steppers have been picked in 1963, '64, '66, '69 and '71. Since 1964, competition regulations have stipulated that no band may represent San Diego two consecutive years.

Helix High School, winner of the 1972 Autumn Review, will be Sunday's honor band.

Mt. Miguel has been under an intense practice schedule since August 7 and a win Sunday will obviously be the highlight of a season which includes three other major events still ahead, the Hawthorne Band Review, West Arcadia Band Review and the Long Beach All Western Band Review.

But offering a mighty roadblock to Miguel, in addition to many outstanding bands, will be the excellent Orange Glen High School Patriots from Escondido. Orange Glen edged Miguel for the Fallbrook Festival sweepstakes title two weeks ago, 94.5 to 93.4 on a point scale of 100.

Fronting the Matador marchers Sunday will be the 10-girl Banderette team which carries the familiar red, white and black fans spelling the school's name.

Debbie Rilling is the head Banderette, John McPherson is the drum major and Colleen O'Connor the band majorette.

Pot Is Topic Of Surgeon General Talk

U. S. Surgeon General Dr. Jesse L. Steinfeld will discuss the latest clinical findings on marijuana at a dinner meeting of the San Diego County Bar Association this evening.

The 7:45 p.m. event for the 1600-member group will be held in the grand ballroom of the Sheraton Harbor Island Hotel.

A spokesman for the surgeon general indicated Dr. Steinfeld will give the official administration policy concerning the medical implications of marijuana use.

Attorney Luke R. Corbett, dinner chairman, said because of wide interest in the controversial issue and the marijuana initiative on the Nov. 7 ballot, members of the San Diego County Medical and Dental Societies have been invited to the meeting.

Dr. John A. Bishop, president of the medical society, will introduce the speaker.

SD G&E Cable Show To Spotlight 'Women'

Making its debut this week on cable teevee is a new program "Woman", sponsored by the S.D. Gas & Electric Co.

The half-hour show, produced locally, will be aired three-times-a-week on four cable channels in S.D. County.

It is one of the first shows to utilize the combined cable systems to reach more than 100,000 homes within the county. Only Aztec football games previously had similar coverage.

Show times are Tuesday at 10 a.m., Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. and Friday at 1 p.m. Each week the same show will be shown in all three time slots.

The 13-week series features fascinating S.D. women and their unique life styles. Scheduled to appear are Pat Derby, affection trainer of wild animals, Sister Mary Placida, administrator for Mercy Hospital, Theo, a bronze sculptress, and others.

Hostess for "Woman" is Marie Kelley, a new local personality who covers a wide range of subjects with her guests, including decorating and fashion tips, fads in exercising, house plant creations, and tips on consumerism.

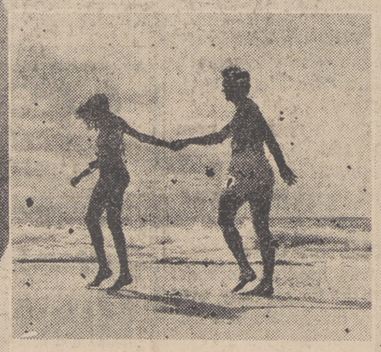
We made the day sunny for two surgeons on their honeymoon.



Dave and Linda started talking marriage when they graduated from college.
They decided to wait until they graduated from medical school. They wanted to be surgeons, you see.
That's a long time to wait, but it gave them a chance to do a very bright thing.
They dropped in to see us.
We set up a savings plan that would grow until they were ready to use the money. Money that would give them a nice honeymoon before they buckled down to internship.
Dave and Linda honeymooned in the Bahamas.
Their savings had increased nicely because we pay the highest interest on insured savings allowed by law.
That meant those lean months of interning weren't quite so lean, thanks to the plan we'd set up years before.
Drop in to see us at La Jolla Federal.
We'll make the day sunny for you.

Shrine Charity Game

Aztec Rebound Eyed With Bowling Green

Bowling Green State U. will make only its third appearance on the West Coast since 1919 Saturday at 8 p.m. when the Falcons meet San Diego State in the annual Al Bahr Shrine game at San Diego Stadium.

Bowling Green, a member of the Mid-America Conference, is 3-1-1 this season after suffering its first loss of the year last week, 14-10 to MAC foe Kent State. The Falcons pulled one of the most stunning upsets of the college season in their opening game, beating Purdue, 17-14.

The loss to Kent State was Bowling Green's first at home after four straight on the road.

But, Bowling Green's dream of an unbeaten season ended almost as abruptly as San Diego State's. The Aztecs suffered a 49-14 loss to a fired up University of Houston team last week in the Astrodome.

In beating the Aztecs (4-1), Houston compiled 601 yards total offense, the most yards ever against a San Diego State team. The previous record was 556 yards last season by Iowa State. The 49 points are the most scored against San Diego State since 1960 when Fresno State romped 60-0.

The Cougars passed for 354 yards in the game, including an NCAA record tying toss of 99 yards from Terry Peel to Robert Ford. The 354 yards was more yards passing than the Aztecs surrendered in their first four games combined.

"I don't really think Houston is 35 points better than us," said Aztec head coach Don Coryell. They have a good football team that will be great in two years, but we had chances and blew them."

San Diego State's running game suffered a severe blow Saturday in Houston when fullback Adam Victoria suffered torn ligaments in his right knee and will be out of action at least four weeks. Victoria is the Aztecs leading ballcarrier with 242 yards.

The board of directors of San Diego Gas & Electric Company this week authorized the sale of up to 1,500,000 shares of common stock, subject to approval of the California Public Utilities Commission.

Pass Defense May Be Key in USD-SageHen Fray

Statistics show that the University of San Diego football team found its lost pass defense but a sophomore quarterback from Pomona College wants to see first hand. He'll get his chance Saturday night when USD journeys north to meet the SageHens at 7:30.

San Diego was infiltrated for 773 yards passing in its first four games and the Toreros looked to be in deep trouble for the remainder of the season, its initial since 1961.

Last week against LaVerne, however, the defense closed ranks, didn't allow a completion in 10 tries and came up with two interceptions. LaVerne's depth finally told in the waning moments and USD succumbed 27-21.

Torero coach Andy Vinci must gather his squad together for a new onslaught this week when Pomona's Larry Cenotto directs what is sure to be an aerial barrage.

USD returns to its campus stadium for a homecoming battle with a suddenly improved Loyola University, Thursday, October 26, at 7:30 p.m.

Sims, Brooks Get Radio-Sports Jobs

SAN DIEGO — Frank Sims, veteran sportscaster, has been named to handle the play-by-play of all 84 regular season games for the Conquistador's initial season in American Basketball Association play.

Sims, who also remains as Director of Radio and Television for the San Diego Padres, has worked in sports communication for the L.A. Dodgers, Sports Network, and has handled basketball play-by-play for the NBA Detroit Pistons.

The same week John Brooks, a 34-year old veteran of seven years of play-by-play hockey calling was named by the Gulls to replace Ron Oakes, the only other radio voice the Gulls ever had. Brooks has a record of more than 500 pro-hockey broadcasts, most of them for the Oaklahoma City Blazers in the Central League. He also had highly regarded radio and teevee sports shows in the Oklahoma City area for several years. He will broadcast both home and away games over KOGO (60) radio. Oakes separated from the Gulls following a salary disagreement.

Monarchs Continue Toward Loop Title

Monte Vista High School continued on its way to the Grossmont League cross country crown last Friday afternoon by thumping the El Capitan Vaqueros, 16-42.

Leading the way for the Monarchs once again was Gary Close, who set a new record for the 2.1 mile Monte Vista course, traveling the distance in 10:21.8, 2.2 seconds better than his own record set earlier in the year.

In other action, Helix knocked off Granite Hills, 23-35, Mt. Miguel smashed Santana, 17-43, and Grossmont beat El Cajon, 23-36.

Rome's Coliseum is 1,900 years old.

M.V. Gridders Thumped 29-6 By El Capitan

It was bad news for the Monte Vista football team when it was learned that star quarterback Art Spahr would miss his second straight game with a leg injury.

The news was so bad that the team had to sit down, and never did get up again, as the Monarchs were trampled, 29-6, by the El Capitan Vaqueros, last Friday night at Monte Vista.

Monte Vista, a team that depends on the artful arm of Spahr for all its offensive muscle, managed to muster a fair passing game, but the running attack failed dismally, gaining a grand total of five yards in the game.

The game opened for the Monarchs with disappointment as El Capitan drove methodically down the field for six points.

In the second quarter, the Vaqueros were at it again as El Cap quarterback Joe Unden tossed a 35-yard scoring strike to Gary Armstrong, giving Armstrong his second touchdown of the night, Unden ran the conversion for a 14-0 lead.

The third quarter was scoreless, but El Capitan got on the scoreboard twice in the final chapter, once on an Unden run from the one, and once on a 29-yard pass play.

Monte Vista's only moment of glory was in the final quarter when junior John Congdon fell on a Vaquero fumble. A long pass play and a two-yard run got the Monarchs on the scoreboard.

Monte Vista's offense, depending almost entirely on the pass play, looked at times as though it was ready to break loose as substitute quarterback Jim Carroll connected with receivers.

The Monarchs will take another shot at the victory column tomorrow night when they meet the El Cajon Braves in Valley Stadium at 8 p.m.

Grossmont League Football

Only Two Teams Remain Undefeated

Two of the Grossmont League's eight teams were undefeated this week after a couple of sleeping giants awoke, adding new dimension to the league football title chase.

Mt. Miguel topped Santana, 12-0, scoring in every imaginable way, and Helix demolished the Granite Hills Eagles, 25-7, as the Highlanders and Matadors escaped the second round of action without a loss.

Helix beat a poor El Cajon team, 24-14 the week before and still looked unimpressive, but Friday's triumph over the Eagles put the Highlanders back on top as the title favorite.

Two other expected-to-be-tough teams, Grossmont and El Capitan, finally arrived last week also, as the Vaqueros buried Monte Vista, 29-6, after the prior week's 41-18 humiliation at the hands of Mt. Miguel, and Grossmont ripped El Cajon, 34-3 to bounce back from a 14-0 loss to Granite Hills.

In tomorrow's night's action, some interesting encounters are offered. Monte Vista and El Cajon will fight it out in a battle of the winless at Valley Stadium, Granite Hills will try to bounce back at El Capitan, Helix will take it easy against Santana at Monte Vista stadium, and Grossmont will meet Mt. Miguel at Helix stadium.

The "big" game will pit Mt. Miguel's immovable defense against Grossmont's unstoppable offense. Grossmont, after scoring only one TD in its first three games, finally broke away last week and appears ready for the Matador defense. Mt. Miguel proved itself in a defensive battle last week by holding Santana to 63 yards total offense and no score.

Another interesting game will be at Valley Stadium, where Monte Vista will take its shots at El Cajon. Monte Vista has been plagued by the absence of star quarterback Art Spahr, who is expected to be in action. El Cajon has had troubles from injuries also.

Another game that could turn out to be a good one will be the El Cap-Granite Hills affair. The Eagles are not power laden but have exhibited a solid defense. El Cap has had injury problems but still has an excellent offense.

One laugher will be staged at Monte Vista when the defensive minded Santana Sultans take on Helix. Helix has a balanced running attack and a recently discovered passing threat. Santana offers a fair offense and good defense.

Nick's Picks: Monte Vista 18 over El Cajon, Granite Hills 7 over El Cap, Helix 14 over Santana, Mt. Miguel 2 over Grossmont. Last week: 2 winners, two losers. Season: five winners, three losers.

Matadors Top Sultans, 12-0

By Doug Gegax

The Mt. Miguel Matadors won their second straight league football game, 12-0 last Friday night over Santana at Miguel.

The Sultans got the first chance to score, but the overpowering Matador defense, which held Santana to 40 yards rushing the entire game, forced the Sultans to punt for the first of nine times.

Miguel came out rushing and established a respectable running game which turned out two quick first downs. The drive was capped when quarterback Jess Jenner hit Steve Haynes on a 23-yard touchdown pass.

There was no further scoring in the half, although the Matadors did threaten several times. But the highlight of the first two periods was Miguel's defense holding the Sultans to virtually nothing.

The Mats scored early in the third quarter when Jenner surprised the crowd by kicking a 37-yard field goal.

The game got a little boring after that score, but in the fourth period Miguel kept the fans from dozing when 300-pound defensive lineman Buddy Gaea intercepted a Jim Lowery pass on the 15-yard line and ran it back five yards with several Sultans riding his back. The Mats failed to score due to a fumble on the six-yard line.

Santana didn't escape the fired-up Miguel defense, however, as Dan Bernal caught Lowery in the end zone for a safety.

Tomorrow night, Miguel faces Grossmont. The Foothillers have had early season woes while the Matadors have been consistent on both offense and defense. A victory in the game would put the local team in good shape for league title hopes.

Parking Game at the Arena

All the fun at the San Diego Sports Arena isn't indoors. There's a gruesome game going on in the parking area outside. It's called Irritate the Driver.

It was the Saturday night opener for Gulls. Sports Arena blvd. was heavy with traffic. The north entrance to the parking lot is not well lighted. Fewer people use it because many do not know it's there.

A man was backing out of the entrance into the heavy traffic. We stopped to accommodate him. In the car were a couple of kids and a woman. Only an idiot would commit such a hazardous act, we thought as we waited. He backed across the double yellow lines in the center and exposed himself broadside to oncoming traffic in the two far lanes. Luckily, he was not hit. We turned in the 200 ft. driveway and showed our press parking credentials.

The lone guard said he would not accept the credential. We would have to go to the main gate a hundred yards below.

"You've got to back out," the guard ordered.

"You are out of your mind," we answered. "If you think I'm going to get myself killed because of your stupid rules, you're crazy. That guy in the red car almost got hit backing out."

"You're going to back out of here or I'll call the cops," he threatened.

"You're going to have a locked car right here and now," we said emerging from the vehicle.

"I'll tow it away if you do," he said.

"And face the subsequent law suit?" we asked.

The guard had enough. He called one of the cops parked near the main road. The cop said "What's your trouble?" The guard looked at us and said "Now tell it like it is." We told him. The cop said, "You've got to back out!"

"You're crazy as hell if you think I'm going to back into that traffic," we replied.

The cop and the guard moved aside and talked it over. Another man who appeared to be a parking lot official was attracted by the argument and the horn-blowing. He came running over out of the darkness and joined the cop and the guard. The cop broke away from the huddle and said "If you'll back out I'll stop the traffic."

"That is the first sensible thing that's been said here tonight," we grumped. "But I won't back out. I'll turn around."

We drove through the control gate as the cop, the guard and the official yelled "stop." We stopped.

The executive yelled, "You might as well stay in. You've driven over the counter.

It was then that realization came that to parking lot operators, human lives are less important than the total on a mechanical counter.

The guard turned back to collecting from the line of vehicles that had backed up behind us. The cop walked back toward his car. We drove to a suitable parking space —a plan that was rudely interrupted 10 minutes before.

Later, in the press hospitality room the Gulls operate, we were recalling the incident while berating the stupidity of the Ace Auto Parking people who run the parking at the Arena and at the Stadium. John DeMott, sports announcer for Radio KSON and voice of the readerboard at the Stadium had a similar experience a few minutes after ours.

"When they stopped me I told the guy to go (bleep) himself and drove through the gate. Some guy jumped in a Mercedes and chased me over to the press parking area. He told me I couldn't do that. I told him to do the same thing to himself that I told the guard. He drove away," DeMott said.

This yarn and the space it consumes is dedicated to those who will take courage as a result of it and be reassured that one needn't be intimidated by officious ticket takers or public servants.

Test for Gulls In 3-Game Series

The San Diego Gulls, fresh off a 1-1 tie with the Dallas Black Hawks in their season opener, are now in full scale preparations for a big weekend series beginning Friday.

The Gulls played the tie with their first Central Hockey League competition ever before 10,388 in San Diego as the Gulls had their seventh consecutive home opener that has been played before over 10,000 or more fans.

Coach Jack Evans and his men will be off until Friday, when they travel to Denver to meet the Spurs. The following evening the club returns to San Diego and will face their second CHL competition when the Omaha Knights come here. Then on Sunday, the Gulls move on to Phoenix to battle the Roadrunners in the first regular season meeting of the year between the two rivals.

The 1-1 standoff with Dallas was a hard-hitting, fast skating affair that was pleasing to Coach Evans, making his reg-

SHARP TURN — Mt Miguel running back appears to be ready to fall over as he makes a sharp turn in action last Friday against Santana. Mt. Miguel's defense put on a good show as the local team tuned up for tomorrow night's game against Grossmont with a 12-0 win over the Sultans. A win over Grossmont tomorrow night would give Mt. Miguel a good shot at the league title. (Mark Coffin photo)

Something Old, Something New For Coliseum Prizefight Fans

It was the Coliseum, all right. But it had a different look.

First, there were about 1,200 people — a larger than normal turnout to see the "every Friday" boxing card.

Then there were new folding chairs at ringside. They were a welcome addition for sports reporters. There was a new canvas with "Coliseum-San Diego" painted in the center. There was an elderly gent replacing ring announcer Fred Lewis who was on duty as announcer at the Gulls game — a job he has when he isn't serving as announcer for the Conquistadors, a job he has when he isn't at the Coliseum.

And not the least in importance, there was Al Couppee, dean of San Diego sportscasters, working himself into a lather as he called it from ringside via KOGO radio.

The canvas was slippery — possibly because of the newness or the artwork. Three fighters suffered the embarrassment of no-knockdown prafalls as a result.

The refreshment stand, under new management, is an improvement.

What's Old?

Left out of the improvements is the speaker system which still sounds like the announcer is doing it with his head under water. The same old patched up piano stools are still in the fighters' corners.

And there was State heavyweight Jack O'Halloran lumbering about in sockless thongs starting an ersatz argument with heavyweight Ken Norton whose recent claim to fame is taking bows just before the main go — always with a toothpick hanging from his lips as a mark of distinction.

In the business of the evening, the fighters were better than the fights.

Hedgemon Lewis, high-ranking welterweight, earned a unanimous decision over Jose Luis Baltazar of Mexico City but he was not impressive in a 10 round feature. He was hit more often Friday than in all of his previous fights here.

In a co-feature 10-rounder Quincy Daniels was a disappoinment in his welterweight battle against Jorge Rodriguez of San Ysidro. Daniels' right eyebrow was split early in the fight. Blood trickled into his eye during the fight. Rodriguez right cheek was gashed mid-fight. Daniels had scored a 43 second knockout in the same ring two weeks before but failed to exhibit the same power Friday. He claimed later his vision was obscured by blood and that he had "overtrained."

Early this week it was announced that O'Halloran will meet Norton in a 10-round semiwindup to the Muhammad Ali-Bob Foster fight Nov. 21 at Stateline, Nev.

Chargers Try Detroit Before Heading Home

The San Diego Chargers tackle the Detroit Lions for the first official time at Tiger Stadium Sunday. However, the paths of the teams have crossed twice before.

First confrontation came off the field. The Chargers and Lions in late 1961 bid for a triple-threat back from Kansas. The lions drafted him No. 1 as a halfback. The Chargers drafted him No. 3 as a quarterback. John Hadl signed with San Diego.

Second encounter was a preseason game, but not just a meaningless summer skirmish. On Aug. 20, 1967, Detroit beat San Diego, 38-17. It was the first game for the AFL Chargers against an NFL team. It was the first game played at San Diego Stadium.

After 25,000 passing yards for Hadl and 5 years of NFL maturing for San Diego, the Chargers contest the Lions Sunday at 11 a.m. (PDT). The game will be televised by NBC over KGTV-10 with either Jim Simpson or Bill Ennis and Kyle Rote the announcers. Stu Nahan and Ralph Lawler broadcast for KDEO and the Charger network.

Detroit is the last stop for San Diego on an arduous four-game road excursion. The Chargers are 1-1-1 after visits to Oakland, Baltimore and Miami and 2-2-1 for the season. Before 80,010 at the Orange Bowl last Sunday, they lost to the Miami Dolphins, 24-10.

Notable for the Chargers was the continued excellence of their offensive line on pass protection. The stalwarts of Coach Forrest Gregg allowed Miami one sack. Through five games, San Diego has allowed only five sacks for 43 yards in losses.

San Diego's defenders, meanwhile, have sacked the enemy 11 times for 89 yards. They had three sacks against Miami, one each for Deacon Jones, Lionel Aldridge and Ron East. Dave Costa contributed mightily with 12 unassisted tackles.

Detroit is the only team in the NFL Central Division, dubbed the "Black and Blue," which the Chargers never have played. San Diego defeated Minnesota and Chicago and lost to Green Bay in other years.

After Sunday's game, the Chargers return home to play the Kansas City Chiefs, Oct. 29; Dallas Cowboys, Nov. 5, and the Cleveland Browns on Monday night, Nov. 13. Tickets for these games are on sale at San Diego Stadium Gate E.

Candidate Due Here

Professor John Hospers, the Libertarian Party's candidate for President of the United States, will come to San Diego for a series of public appearances tomorrow.

Standings Tied In Suburban Soccer League

Two teams are tied for the lead in the Suburban Soccer League's midget division, and three teams are tied for the lead in the league's pee-wee division after the second week of action.

In the midget class, the Rascals topped the hapless Marauders, 8-1, while the Playboys got past the Monarchs, 4-2, to tie for first place, half a game in front of the Pros, who tied with the Rippers, 2-2.

In other action, the Braves bumped the Colts, 2-1, and the Chargers shocked the Conquistadors, 3-1.

Pee-wee action saw the Continentals, the Rigs, and the Roadrunners all win their second games to remain tied for first place, while the Raiders lost their first game to drop into a three-way tie for fourth place.

The Continentals trumped the Hawks, 4-2, the Rigs smashed the Raiders, 8-0, and the Roadrunners nipped the Razorbacks, 3-1. In the only other games played, the Rangers topped the Royals, 2-1, and the Lions knocked off the Celtics, 2-1.

In the prep division, two games were played, with the Crusaders beating Parkway Junior High, 3-2, and the Kingsmen edging Memorial Junior High, 2-1.

The league's outstanding player of the week was Robert Gomez of the midget division Rascals, who scored six of his team's eight goals in the victory over the Marauders.

POWDER PUFF BOWL — The first annual Powder Puff Bowl was played Saturday night at Monte Vista High School, and Los Toros was the winner, 12-7. But the excitement had little to do with the outcome of the game, but rather who was playing. Involved were mothers of players from the two Pop Warner Football clubs, as evidence in photo at left indicates. The mirror was brought by one of the ladies so she could keep tabs on her eye shadow and lipstick. In center, La Mesa receiver Phyllis Vasbinder was stricken with a case of the "wrong ways" while trying to catch a pass. At right, the teams show how good they are after getting warmed up. Los Toros scored first in the third quarter, but a 42-yard pass play tied it up for La Mesa and the extra point gave the La Mesans what appeared to be victory. But Los Toros added another TD with three minutes to go in the game on a 21-yard run to win it. (Vince Broesch photos)

TV's 'Hogan' in Comedy Hit In Off Broadway Theatre

To that legion of "Hogan's Heroes" fans who become enthralled with the abilities of Bob Crane as they scrunch for hours in front of the tube — we have news for you.

The news is good. It is that Crane projects across the footlights even better than he does from the confines of teevee's Stalag 13.

He projects in "Send Me No Flowers" for the rest of this week at San Diego's Off Broadway theatre, downtown, with his final performance being Sunday.

Somebody surrounded Crane with a superb cast and dropped them into an unusually funny script. The subject? Death!

Well, not exactly. Crane doesn't die. Nobody does. In the play Crane is a hypocondriac. He's addicted to medicine and medical attention. His lovely wife, Bobbie Jordan, an understanding chick just about had him cured. But when he overhears his doctor's telephone discussion concerning another patient's impending death, he assumes he is the subject.

Crane's heavy-handed attempts for sympathy are downright funny. A young, Oklahoma oil millionaire (Gary Oakes) who is a school chum of Crane's wife; a neigborly attorney, who drowns his sympathy for Crane's condition in scotch; a seductive female (Brend Dickson) who is a call girl in a dream sequence, and a doctor (Larry Marko) who has a penchant for money and vacations, represents good solid casting. But our favorite is the hokey cemetery lot salesman (Eric Lord). He has some Jonathan Winters in him.

The overlaid plot, of course, is boy gets girl, etc. with everything coming out just right in the end. Part of the action was accommodated by four dream sequences.

In all, it is fun theatre.

Griffs Suffer 27-23 Setback To Saddleback

The Grossmont College Griffins lost another tough decision last Saturday on the gridiron, the fifth straight loss for the team.

Grossmont appeared ready to break out of the slump as the game opened and starting quarterback Dennis Core took charge and drove deep into Saddleback territory, where the Griffs settled for a field goal.

Grossmont was at it again a few minutes later as Core tossed a three-yard touchdown pass, making it 10-0.

But Saddleback settled down to a good defensive game in the second quarter and picked up points on a safety, a touchdown, and a two-point conversion to knot the score at halftime.

A field goal and a touchdown put the Guachos in front, 20-10 late in the third quarter when Grossmont came alive again, as defensive tackle Ed Couvrette recovered a fumble on the Saddleback 12-yard line to set up another Core scoring pass.

Saddleback put another scoring drive together in the final stanza and led, 27-17 late in the game when Core hit Larry Olson on a 32-yard touchdown pass to close the gap to 27-23.

With 1:36 remaining in the contest Grossmont got the ball back on its own 33-yard line, where Core began another drive. The Griffs reached the Guacho 15-yard line with five seconds left and it looked as though the team might win it yet.

On the game's final play, Core dropped back to pass with the end zone flooded with receivers, but the Saddleback coverage was too much and Core found nobody open. He ate the ball for a 12-yard loss.

The loss for Grossmont was its third of the season by a close margin. The other two were one-point affairs.

The Griffs will have another shot at winning a game Saturday afternoon when they host Chaffey in Aztec Bowl at 1:30 p.m.

Death Valley Camp Planned

The 23rd annual "Death Valley Encampment" will be held November 9 through 12, according to an announcement from the Death Valley '49ers, Inc., sponsors of the desert event. Last year's Encampment drew some 30,000 campers and desert enthusiasts to Death Valley National Monument.

"This family outing is designed to celebrate the beauties of the Monument and its nearby desert," said Dean Lemon, president of the '49ers, adding that "the yearly event also helps preserve the memories of the early California pioneers."

As in past years, the 1972 Encampment will feature five traditional breakfasts, plus guided tours of the Valley each day, camp-fire sing-alongs and dances in the evening, displays of relics from the days of the original '49ers, and naturalists' illustrated lectures.

New additions to the Encampment this year include a pair of "nature walks" arranged with the Sierra Club, consisting of "non-strenuous hikes to locales rarely seen by tourists."

Issuing a word of caution, Lemon noted that public accommodations in the past have always been filled during the four-day event and that those who don't secure reservations should be prepared to bring with them a full complement of camping equipment and supplies.

Film On Germany Scheduled

The public forum series featuring nationally known authorities discussing the news and the meaning behind the headlines, will continue at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Grossmont College's Fine Arts Recital Hall when news-photographer Victor Sickinger personally narrates a film on "Germany: Old and New."

The film will feature Germany's great cities and famous landmarks as well as the Octoberfest and other traditional festivals. Violin-making and the cukoo clock industry will also be featured.

Sickinger has been interested and active in photography since he received his first camera at the age of 8. He continued his photography throughout his school years. After graduation he opened his own photographic business in Chicago. For several years he was a news-press photographer for the Chicago Herald Examiner and later for the Chicago Tribune. He also served as assistant chief photographer for Panthe in the Chicago district.

Sickinger, who produced four well received color films on Alaska, Glacier Park, the Canadian Rockies and the American Southwest, was urged to make films abroad. He speaks German fluently and because of a personal interest in Switzerland, he selected that country for his first foreign film. After Switzerland, his films on Australia, Belgium and Germany were made and each subsequent visit to these countries has resulted in new footage.

Conqs Make It Three-in-a-Row

It has been a long time since a professional team of any kind won three in a row in San Diego.

But the basketball Conquistadors did it after only one game of life at S.D. State's Peterson Gym.

The Conqs came from behind Tuesday night to take the Virginia Squires 117-112. Ollie Taylor, with a long bench record, started and hit 25 points—20 of them in the second half. The Cons overcame a 12-point deficit, the deficit came mostly from a flat second quarter.

Utah invades San Diego Friday at 7:30 and the Conqs go to Utah Saturday. Indiana comes to San Diego Sunday followed by Kentucky Tuesday.

Attendance average has been about 2,000 a game.

Drizzle Total Tops Half Inch

It was the kind of rain weeds thrive on — light and steady. On Tuesday, and until press-time Wednesday, .54 of an inch had fallen bringing the season's total to 1.19.

It compared with .98 on the same date last year, according to Dale Chamberlain, local meteorologist with the local fire department.

Rainfall season is based on a July 1 year.

The battle for the overall points championship at the South Bay Speedway will come to a climax tomorrow night when motorcyclists Ward Ring and Earl Roloff battle it out in a double points program.

'Apple Tree' to Open At Grossmont Tonight

Grossmont College's Communication Arts/Drama Department will open "The Apple Tree" at 8:30 p.m., this evening in the Stagehouse Theatre.

The musical featuring music by Jerry Bock and lyrics by Sheldon Harnik, is presented in three acts based on stories by Mark Twain, "The Diary of Adam and Eve;" Frank Stockton, "The Lady or the Tiger" and Jules Feiffer, "Passionella."

"The Apple Tree," first presented in 1966 by Stuart Ostrow at the Sam S. Shubert Theatre in New York City, was one of comedian-turned-director, Mike Nichols' most notable successes. Nichols has become one of the country's better known film and stage directors. Best known, perhaps, for his directing of the "Burtons" in the film, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

The three musical stories, although dealing with different time periods and settings, are tied together by the same subject matter — that is the relationship between man and woman.

The Griffin Players' production of "The Apple Tree" will be directed by Martin F. Gerrish with set designs by James W. Baker and costumes by Clark G. Mires. Sam Sypolt will serve as stage manager while Joe King serves as house manager.

The cast list of "The Diary of Adam and Eve," will feature Alfred Omega, Jamul, as the Voice with Richard Haverinen as Adams; Diane Kucala, Spring Valley, as Eve and Pat Sammon as the Snake.

Featured roles in the "Lady or the Tiger," will include Pat Rodgers, as Balladeer; Vicki Nelson, Spring Valley, as Balladeer's girl; Irene Rogers, Lemon Grove, as Guard I; Bobbie Kulis as Guard II and Lynette Tolbert as Guard III.

Bill Barton, Lemon Grove, will serve as narrator for "Passionella" with Lynette Tolbert as Ella Passionella; Richard Haverinen, as Mr. Fallible and Irene Rogers, Lemon Grove, as the Neighborhood Godmother.

The public is invited to see the Griffin Players' producteion of the comedy-musical. "The Apple Tree" will also be presented October 20, 21, 26, 27 and 28. The price of admission is $1.50 with reservations required. Reservations may be made by calling 465-1700, Ext. 327.

French Bids for City-County Meet to Lower Property Tax

Gene French, candidate for County Supervisor in District 2, this week called for an immediate conference of County and City officials to discuss a joint effort to lower property taxes through the use of $19 million in federal revenue-sharing funds earmarked for the region.

At the same time, French, president of the San Diego Unified Board of Education, was critical of Congress for "attaching strings to the funds that actually encourage local governments to increase spending."

"Complicated guidelines still being distributed to cities and counties reduce funds to jurisdictions that attempt to use the money to reduce taxes. The more a local government spends, the bigger the share," French said.

French told the Dehesa Community Council Monday, "If we do not provide more equitable taxing we are going to face a tax revolt and I will be glad to help lead it."

"San Diego taxpayers won't receive the full benefit of the revenue-sharing program unless the Board of Supervisors and 13 City Councils agree to cooperate to give taxpayers every possible consideration," French said. "Nobody will gain if all jurisdictions go off on a shopping spree."

French also cautioned that some of the funds might have to be diverted to capital improvement projects unless taxpayers show a willingness to pass bond issues for much needed facilities, such as improved jails and honor camps.

French, who finished ahead of 11 opponents in the primary, has been endorsed by incumbent Henry Boney. He said he personally favors more funds to expand the County's fight to curb drug abuse, but said the bulk of the new funds should be used to ease the "staggering property tax burden hitting both homeowners and renters."

French said the region will receive $19 million in revenue-sharing funds this year. He noted at least $8 million will go to the County with the remainder being divided among the 13 cities.

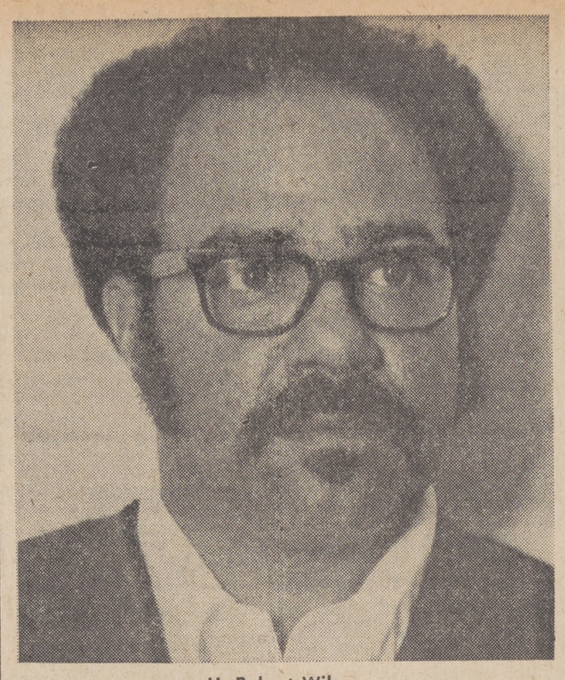
Proposition 14 Disasterous, Dixon Charges

Public schools in San Diego could lose as much as $59 million in tax support if Proposition 14, the Watson Initiative, is passed, according to Dr. M. Ted Dixon, County Superintendent of Schools.

Enrollment and revenue projections prepared by the Department of Education's Division of Business Services show that the San Diego Unified School District would lose $14,850,635. Dixon said that the other 42 districts in San Diego County which teach elementary and high school students would lose $21,556,128 if Proposition 14 passes Nov. 7.

Dixon added that community college would receive no local property tax support under Proposition 14. Community colleges in San Diego County would therefore lose an estimated $22,590,646 in local tax support if the proposed constitutional amendment were approved by voters, he explained.

"Passage of Proposition 14 would have disastrous implications for needed services for the people of the State and the County," Dr. Dixon said.



H. Robert Wilson

S.V. Resident Gets U.C.S. Director Post

H. Robert Wilson of Spring Valley has been appointed East and South County director for United Community Services of San Diego County, Don L. Morgan, UCS executive director, announced.

Wilson will be responsible for directing United Crusade activities in the East and South County and for coordinating the development of district advisory boards as recommended in the reorganization of UCS last spring.

Prior to assuming his present post, he had served for nearly 20 years in the Marine Corps, and holds numerous awards and commendations including the Vietnam Campaign Medal, Presidential Unit Citation and Navy Unit Citation.

In 1970 he was designated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of San Diego's Outstanding Young Men in recognition of his voluntary service to community organizations, notably with the Boy Scouts.

While serving as administration chief at the provost marshall's office, Marine Corps Recruit Depot, he developed a Professional Sports Explorer Scout program for high school age youth in Southeast San Diego.

A native of Chicago, Wilson was raised in Des Moines and has attended Virginia State College, San Diego State, and Southwestern College. He also attended the Defense Language School, Washington, D.C. and other service-connected institutes.

During this year's Crusade, and in the initial stages of the formation of the East and South County organization, Wilson will work with Sterling H. Hall, who had been serving as acting area director.

Computerized Welfare Urged

Welfare Director Robert B. Carleson reported last week that a technical consulting firm has advised his department to go ahead with the computerization of California's welfare system.

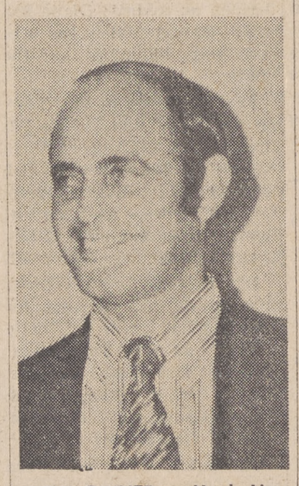
Pacific Decision Sciences Corporation of Los Angeles based its findings on a study of the Department of Social Welfare's proposals for an expanded electronic data reporting system and a review of feasibility studies dating back to 1965.

The consultants recommended that the department undertake no further feasibility studies, stating that they agreed that a system based on the last department study in 1971 "would be technically and economically the most advantageous."

They cited as verification of the 1971 study the development by Los Angeles County of an electronic Welfare Case Management Information System based on the State's EDRS requirements and put together with the help of the department's systems experts.

The department's original request for proposals from electronic data processing companies sought to save time by adopting the unusual procedure of combining hardware and software requirements in one package.

The chance that the shortcut method might have resulted in higher installation costs was one of the reasons why it bogged down in the Legislature. However, the consultant said that any risks of an overrun in implementation cost would have been more than offset by the savings realized by starting computerization earlier.



NEW OWNER — Hank Lincoln, formerly a partner with Seaside Buick in La Jolla, has bought out Dick Wilson's share of Lemon Grove Chrysler Plymouth and is now senior partner with Fred Winger. The business, which is presently undergoing re-organization of sales and service, will be known as College Grove Chrysler Plymouth.

Traffic Claims Life Of Mark Contway, 18

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at Featheringill College Center Chapel for Mark Wayne Contway, 18-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Contway, of 10524 Russell rd., La Mesa.

Contway died October 15 at El Cajon Valley Hospital of injuries received in a one-car accident in Lakeside the day before. According to accident reports, Contway was driving a passenger car when he lost control, left the roadway, and struck a tree.

The youth, a native of this county, lived here all his life and was employed as a horse trainer with a ranch in Escondido. Interment was in El Camino Memorial Park.

His father, Lyle, is owner and president of Corral Ford in Lemon Grove.

Survivors, in addition to his parents, include two brothers, Tony Contway, of New Mexico, and Randy, of La Mesa. Donations to Horse World Scholarships were suggested.

County Board Urges Defeat Of Prop. 14

Strong opposition to Proposition 14, the Watson Amendment, was voiced last week by the San Diego County Board of Education in a resolution adopted at its regular meeting.

Proposition 14 is a proposed constitutional amendment which would limit property taxes and increase taxes on sales, cigarettes, and other consumer items. It will appear on the general election ballot in California November 7.

Citing a potential loss of $771 million in tax support for California schools, the resolution also said, "Proposition 14 would result in a loss of approximately $59 million for the school districts and community college districts of San Diego County."

The county board said that Proposition 14 provides a "tax shift" that would increase taxes for the individual and "jeopardize the democratic tradition of local control of education."

Candidate Kau Hammers Nails in Platform Planks

A meaningful welfare reform program with the idea of reducing the overall tax burden is a major plank in the platform of Kick Kau, the Republican candidate to unseat Congress Lionel Van Deerlin in the 4th Congressional District.

He said Friday that he would plump for reduced federal spending and pass the savings on to taxpayers.

Other planks include: a militarily strong nation; fight against inflation and unemployment; no amnesty for those who refused to serve the country; better pay and retirement benefits for military personnel; quality education without forced bussing, and a strong crime prevention program with mandatory jail sentences for those committing crime with firearms — and capital punishment where appropriate.

Kau, a Chula Vistan, said Van Deerlin is more liberal than George McGovern.

Bail Set For Escapee Who Held Up SV Couple

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A prison escapee charged with kidnapping and robbery at a Palomar Mountain camp of a Spring Valley PSA flight engineer and his wife was arranged Friday in Municipal Court and held on $35,000 bail for a preliminary hearing.

George James Dover, 37, and his wife Norma, 30, of 3823 Calavo, Spring Valley, reported that they were held up on Sept. 13 at Cedar Grove Camp Ground, on Palomar. They said the holdup man held a razor to Mrs. Dover's throat and said: "Do as I say, or I'll slit her throat."

The couple told of being forced to drive the man to San Diego where he took a $200 watch and $50 in cash. The suspect was identified through a prison shirt left at the camp and then by photographs showed the Dovers.

He was taken into custody Thursday and arraigned the next day.

The average West German consumed 136.7 quarts of beer in 1971.
